Bankers see a bright future...if

by GLORIA DAVIS

We've all been hearing the current administration in Washington brag about the rise of the economy. But we've also heard the challengers in this election year disparage these claims and say that things are really no better than they were in 1980, and in fact, some say they are worse.

The heads of two of Antioch's financial institutions have their own ideas, not only about the national economy but about the local one, right here in Antioch.

The new president of the First National Bank, Ted Axton said, "I'm very enthusiastic about this community and was surprised and most pleased to find it as financially active in the winter as it is."

Axton was referring to the fact that he had always thought that Antioch mostly thrived on the summer visitors to the Chain O Lakes.

Axton said that his experience as a newcomer is that business as a whole was up in 1983 and the businessmen he has talked to expect it to keep rising as the warmer weather approaches.

Nationally the outlook is about the same he added, as long as government doesn't throw any monkey wrenches into the future financial picture.

"If people are left to make their own decisions in terms of what they want from their lifestyle, business etc., the economy will be in far better shape than if a super government tries to make those decisions for them," he said.

Axton sees a better financial state for all if government encourages businesses to expand by keeping business taxes down.

He mentions the widespread fear in banking circles of what could happen if the foreign countries who are in debt to big American banking concerns default on their payments.

This would cause a negative impact on the prime rate by making loan money scarce and driving the interest rates back up.

He also said that the economy would benefit from an increase in defense spending but this would be only a temporary thing since money spent on non-productivity is just a shot-in-the-arm to the economy and will produce inflationary pressures in the long run.

Axton is strong in his belief in the community bank versus banking conglomerates.

"But people should remember that if they want the personal attention that only a community bank can give, they must support the bank in their community," Axton said.

In simple words he meant that loan money, at a low interest rate, will not be available unless people put money into a bank in the form of deposits.

Lotus, Grass Lake form talk committee

Grass Lake Grade School Supt. Richard Hogan met with the Grass Lake School Board on the question of the proposed merger of the Grass Lake and Lotus Grade Schools.

The superintendent and the board went over a list of questions and answers compiled during a meeting in January with Dean Mack from the Illinois Office of Education and Lake County Regional School Supt. Bill Thompson and a luncheon meeting between representatives of both school boards.

Hogan added some questions and answers he himself felt were pertinent to the possible merger.

The next step is for the two boards to form a committee made up of representatives of both boards, to consider the question. James Ziegler, Judy Hansen and John Steitz were appointed to the committee by the Grass Lake Board. The Lotus Board is expected to appoint three members of its board to the committee, which is expected to meet later in the month.

The meeting of the Grass Lake School Board was one of the longest in the school's history and, although attendance at school board meetings is usually next to nothing, 20

Abramson honored ACHS Board commends life saving efforts

One of the highlights of the monthly meeting of the Antioch High School Board, held on Thursday, Feb. 16, was the presentation of a plaque to Harold Abramson by the board.

Abramson was commended, in a letter from the board that was put on the plaque, for the life saving efforts he administered to a member of the girls' varsity basketball team during a game at North Chicago.

Abramson gave mouth to mouth resuscitation to the girl who was watching the sophomore game when she passed out.

The dean of men of North Chicago High School and an official, who is a paramedic with the Libertyville Fire Dept., took over and administered cardio-pulmonary resuscitation to the girl before the local rescue squad arrived.

Then the board received a plaque containing a picture of the 1983 tournament football team, the roster and its record, presented by Varsity Football Coach Steve Wapon, and players, John Mahar, John Humphreys and Rod Steiskal.

In other business, the board approved the purchase of three school buses from low bidders Pedersen Brothers, and Amtran of Illinois.

Dates set by the board for upcoming events included Thursday, March 22, for the annual Elementary High School Board Administration Dinner in the school cafeteria; Feb. 27 for a American College Testing (ACT) course and March 31 for the ACT test itself; Career Day, Wednesday, Feb. 22.

The board also approved the 1984-85 school calendar wherein school will start on August 24 for freshmen and August 27 for all students. The last day of the 1984-85 school year will be on Tuesday, June 11.

Honor Jaycettes for community service

A young women's leadership training organization is being officially recognized during the week of Feb. 12-18. The organization, The United States Jaycee Women, 55,000 members strong, is currently the fastest growing women's organization in America.

The Antioch Jaycettes are members of the U.S. Jaycee Women and have been active in the community of Antioch, with such programs as Bowling For Autistic Children. In addition the Antioch Jaycettes have donated to Multiple Sclerosis and Muscular Dystrophy. They have also been quite helpful to the Antioch Jaycees in their programs.

"On behalf of the Antioch Jaycettes, I would like to thank the citizens and the merchants of Antioch for their continued support and help in the past four years," said Ginetta Solonen, president of the Antioch Jaycettes.

Grass Lake

people were there to hear about the merger possibilities.

Hogan said that some were there to express their dissent while many dropped in from other activities going on at the school just to listen in.

In speaking of the possibility of a tax raise for the district's electors, Hogan said, "Since the increase of tax payers that do not have kids in school, it would be hard to get a referendum raising taxes passed in the Grass Lake or any other school district in the United States."

Information contained in the question and answer list included the following pertinent facts.

The average tax rate of the two schools is higher than the present Grass Lake rate.

The tax rate to be used in the case of a merger would have to be determined by both boards and put on the referendum ballot.

On the question of state aid, the passage of House Bill 814 would prevent any decrease for the new district for the first three years.

There would be a savings on Grass Lake's utility costs since the portable classroom, which is electrically heated, would probably be closed.

About two-thirds of the graduates from Lotus School would go to Grant High School unless a legal change was made.

At the present time, Grass Lake has 1,121 electors and Lotus, 987, so if all of the Grass Lake voters were against the merger, it could be squelched, even if all the Lotus School voters, the school that proposed the merger, voted for it.

Lotus has indicated that it wanted consolidation with Grass Lake because both schools are similar in size, assessed valuation, distance, size of debt, quality of education.

Presently, Lotus is operating in the black, but the steady decrease in enrollment could change that unless the school either combines classes or merges with another district such as Grass Lake.

The general consensus is that both school building would be utilized after any merger and a set of new policies would be set up for the new school district.

Hogan said that the merger has the potential to improve the quality of education because of the options supplied by multiple grade sections.

Hogan told his teaching staff about the proposal immediately. The report says that the staff of Lotus School was apprehensive, having not been told of their board's request right away.

Presently the assessed valuation per pupil at Lotus is $161,000, and Grass Lake $89,000.

According to the report, a merger would find the students in the new district each having over $100,000 behind them, an increase for Grass Lake and a decrease for Lotus.

The status of Lotus School Supt., Wayne Tidd, who could not be reached for comment at press time, would be up to both boards.

Hogan has five years until his retirement.

A boomerang cannot return to the thrower after hitting anything.

Moose Women make rally day plans

Senior Regent Mavis Dingsdale called the hospital committee business meeting of the Women of the Moose to order with all officers except Chaplain Barb Miller, Mary Galster pro tem, and 42 co-workers present.

The chapter gave a rousing "welcome back" to Musician Louise Imburgia, as we all found out "things go better with music", and makes the floor work easier to perform.

Recorder Terry Smallwood read the following new applications and transfers-in: Ceanna Wiatr, sponsored by her sister, Louise Gutowski; Mildred Lombardo and Victoria Lombardo, sponsor Mavis Dingsdale; Peg O'Brien and Margaret Kadatz, sponsor Marilyn Vynalek; Diane Stams, sponsor Margie Turner; Leona McCann, transfer from Fox Lake Chapter. The chapter returned a favorable ballot.

Smallwood read the minutes of previous chapter and board of officers meetings. A motion to adopt was made by Judy Page, seconded by Estelle Gatch and approved by the chapter.

The following committee reports were read on the floor: membership, Chairman Jeanine Westbrook, child care, Chairman pro tem Rose Robinsen; hospital, Chairman pro tem Theresa Grefkowitz.

Ritual Director Judy Page's "report card" on the floor work was one of the best so far. All co-workers are doing nicely, but still better be at ritual practice Feb. 23, so the Chapter Rally Day floor work is near perfect. The visiting chapters have notified us that they will need "fill-ins" on their parts of the ritual.

The February birthday marchers were: Florence Ahrens, Terry Smallwood, Anita Carter and Rose Herkert. The nominating committee will meet at the Moose Home on Tuesday, March 13, at 7:30 p.m. Those who will attend are the current board of officers, past regent in juniority, and co-workers. Theresa Grefkowitz, Peggy Learmont, Pat Sterling, Judy Page and Dorothy Laursen.

All co-workers of Antioch Chapter 735 know that we are hosting Chapter Rally Day this year on Sunday, March 4. Registration will begin at 11:30 a.m. at the VFW Post on North Ave. and the ritual will start at 1 p.m. Everyone will then return to the Moose Lodge where the men of LOOM 525 will be waiting to serve us a delicious dinner.

The "Co-worker of the Month" for March is Carolyn Procknow. She was chosen by the co-workers and her picture will be hung in the chapter room for the whole month.

The membership committee wants a special "thank you" to go to Jr. Governor Bruce Westbrook for helping to make their dance a terrific success.

On Feb. 23, after the ritual practice, Senior Regent Mavis is having an organizational meeting to co-ordinate all persons involved with any Chapter Rally Day project. As both places have to be set-up and arranged, she would like everyone to attend so that day will proceed as smooth as possible.

Watch for little hints around the lodge about the "Grand Opening of the Green Door". The committee promised some startling surprises and maybe a few "celebrities" will appear. It's a no-miss-nite!

Our next chapter meeting will be the Moosehaven Committee Chapter night on March 1.

The first record to sell a million copies was "Dardenella/I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles," by Ben Selven. It was put out by Victor Records in 1919.

FIELDS TO BE BARBEQUED — Supporters of Jim Fields' bid for third term on Lake County Board, Dist. 4, plan "Toast To Roast Jim Fields," to be held at 7 p.m., on Saturday, March 3, at Windjammer Restaurant on Rte. 173. When I think about it

Why should defeat be called agony?

by GLORIA DAVIS

Even though all that gold prospecting in Sarejevo is over, and we are all free to return to the latest chapter of "Dynasty," the many pictures of the "thrill of victory and the agony of defeat" have not quite faded from the minds of many.

I'll never cease to wonder what special ingredient drives people like gold medal winners Debbie Armstrong and Scott Hamilton to go on and give their all to top all competition.

Maybe their strength comes from an absolute belief in the Vince Lombardi axiom that winning is the only acceptable thing.

Far be it from me to argue with success. It sure worked for Vince Lombardi during the Packers' "Golden Years."

I'm sure the winners of Hawaii's Triathlon, probably one of the most grueling physical contests ever held, had to ascribe to that belief to put themselves through such an ordeal in quest of a mere trophy.

I know climbers scale Mt. Everest "because its there," but I think that those skiers that choose to fly through the air off of one of those terrifying ski jumps have to either be crazy, drunk, on drugs, or else the thought of being "Numero Uno," far overrides their leanings towards self preservation.

Somehow the fine line that often separates number One and Two, or the Bronze from the nonentity of fourth place, seems to be an unfair one.

I'm sure that Number One often deserves no greater an A for effort than the others mentioned above, so if all there is winning, where does that leave the also rans?

Now I wouldn't for a minute slam the advantages and value of good clean competition, but whatever happened to the old adage, "It's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game?"

Somehow this bit of morality still seems to be a good base for our children to build, not only their athletic careers, but their entire lives, upon.

But it's not hard to find parents and coaches that imbue our children with the belief that a loser is almost a criminal.

Of course, to strive to be a winner at all costs is no serious crime, as long as it remains a victimless one, but the time reevaluation is needed is when our children become the victims.

How often have you seen a Little League pitcher ready to do himself in after losing "the big game" instead of being glad he tried his hardest?

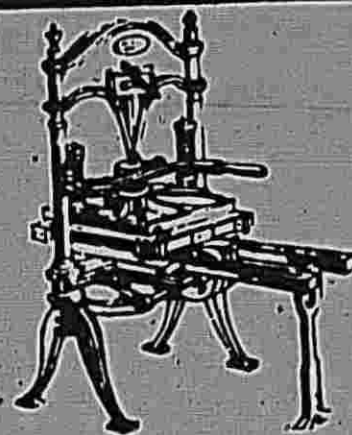

Have you ever heard some of the coaches, who are "playing Casey Stengel and Leo Durocher," go into a merciless tirade at the players who might spoil THEIR winning record?

And spare me from the type of "League" mother who turns into a yelling hellion, sending the entire image of loving motherhood down the drain.

Of course its easier to give all the accolades to a winner, there are so few of them. But what about giving a little more attention to the hapless losers, for there is a myriad of them!

So to those of you who have been disparaging the United States' poor win record at the 1984 Winter Olympics, may I send a loud "shame on you!"

Let's give credit where credit is due. Number Two and Three deserve an extra hand for dealing with "the agony of defeat," with grace and determination. We had a lot of good kids over there and the only difference between them and the winners is that some are wearing gold medals around their necks, while others are anonymously walking around with gold plated spines, knowing in their hearts that all their hard work and dedication has made them better than most at what they do, a feeling that should be enough for anyone!

The Time Machine

FIFTY YEARS AGO: Feb. 22, 1934

Sarah Emmons, Antioch's oldest resident, celebrated her 96th birthday.

Driving 673 miles a day, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rosing made it to Eau Gallie, Fla., in two days or 34 hours of driving.

"Billy" Brook pledged the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity at Beloit College, Beloit, where he was a freshman.

A "Founder's Day Sale," at the local A&P featured cigarettes at $1.19 a carton, sugar was five cents a pound and coffee was three pounds for 49 cents.

Social events in town included a box social sponsored by the Channel Lake P.T.A., a topsy turvy party sponsored by the Royal Neighbors, various card-club meetings, a baby shower for Mrs. Robert Wilton who was expecting guess who!

Jack Panowski and Ed Sorenson unseated R. E. Sorenson and Joe Panowski to become Antioch's ping pong champs.

THIRTY YEARS AGO: Feb. 25, 1954

Antioch's telephone service was changed from a base of $3.65 to $5.15 a month in exchange for free calls to Lake Villa and Fox Lake.

Antioch Nash Sales presented "the lowest priced 6-cylinder family sedan" for $1,150.

A 25 pound turkey, raised by Mrs. Charles Homes, was the mainstay of the menu when she and Mrs. James Hanrahan held a dinner party in honor of their husbands' birthdays.

Because skid marks at the scene of an intersection accident showed that an ambulance that crashed into a car at Rtes. 173 and 59 was going faster than the 35 miles per hour reported by the Fox Lake driver, and the fact that he didn't have a valid chauffeur's license, Magistrate E. Elmer Brook fined the ambulance driver $15.

TEN YEARS AGO: Feb. 28, 1974

The president of the United States Olympic Committee, Philip O. Krumm, chose an office in the State Bank of Antioch for his main headquarters. The 1976 Olympics were slated to be held in Innsbruck, Austria.

Mayor Ray Toft said that plans for senior housing in Antioch had been in the hopper since 1970.

Peggy and Jerry Van Patten left for the Pillsbury Bake-Off finals in Hollywood. Peggy was one of the bake-off contestants.

Ron Cunningham, William Seemann and Bob Wilton were running for village office on the Citizen's Action Party ticket.

The Rotary had its fourth wild game dinner and venison, caribou, moose, roasted partridge and wild duck were on the menu. Pres Reckers won a tv set.

The stores in Antioch held their first "Dollar Days," sale.

For a "Go-Go" shake, combine a small banana, 1/4 cup smooth peanut butter, 1/2 pint vanilla ice cream and a cup of milk. Whirl in a blender until smooth. Serves two.

Along the way

with ANNIE MAE

Just love the sign on the desk of Antioch Township Assessor Bud Holtz that says, "People with clean desks have sick minds."

Happy Birthday to Ev Oftedahl. Speaking of the Oftedahl's, a quote in the Alexandria Va. Journal tells that blind skier, Laura Oftedahl, silver medal winner at the World Winter Games For the Disabled, held at Innsbruck, Austria, did not expect to be a medalist in the cross country ski event because she was competing with Norwegians, Swedes, Finns and Swiss contestants who "grew up with skis on their feet."

Mother Elaine told us that a film made at the 1983 Blind Skiing Championships in Utah, the time and place that Laura made the Disabled Olympics' Ski team, will be aired on Channel 5, on Sunday, Feb. 19.

Art Wetz brought newspaper clippings into the News' office with pics that showed how popular dancing was in the 1920s and 1930s. The Antioch area had three big dance halls, all three of which burnt to the ground in the late 20's and early 30's.

Old Annie Mae is looking forward to seeing one of her favorite musical shows at Carmel High School. Carmel is doing "No, No, Nanette," on March 8, 9, 10, at 8 p.m..

Army Spec. Samuel N. Smith, son of Samuel F. and Betty C. Smith, is seeing Europe on Uncle Sam. He is a microwave repair specialist with the Fifth Signal Command now stationed in New Ulm, West Germany.

Added to that bit of Antioch travel news is the list of next school year's Rotary Exchange students from Antioch High School.

Those planning to spend their junior year abroad are Stephen Biel, Austria; Beth Haley, Norway; Chris Hubbard, Philippines; and Laura Heffernan, Finland.

Church's Family A'Faire set to go on March 11

On Sunday, March 11, St. Peter Parish will hold its Sixth Annual "Family A'Faire" Day, from 1 to 5 p.m., in the St. Peter Social Center, sponsored by the seventh grade students and their parents.

The atmosphere of a family gathering will present athletic performances by all students, family participation in special events, clowns, games, tug-a-war and just a lot of fun.

Food and refreshments will be available throughout the day. The entire family is invited from toddler to great grandparent. Donation of $1 per adult; 50 cents per child, up to a total of $4 per family is requested.

The first baseball World Series took place in October, 1903, between the Boston Americans and the Pittsburgh Nationals.

Solid waste study enters siting stage

The solid waste management plan effort underway in Lake County has reached the point where landfill and facility siting, and financing and ownership matters are beginning to be considered by the Solid Waste Advisory Committee.

The siting criteria subcommittee will identify those conditions in Lake County, such as wetlands or floodplains, which prohibit the location of a waste disposal facility in certain areas. They will also determine criteria and a measurement system which should be considered in locating a waste disposal facility in Lake County.

This is the expected extent that siting issues will be discussed and recommended to the full advisory committee. The public is encouraged to attend the next subcommittee meeting scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 23, at 3 p.m. on the 10th floor of the Lake County Building in Waukegan.

The finance and ownership subcommittee's role will be to consider alternate ways to finance and own waste disposal facilities in Lake County. Several people who have experience in waste facility ownership and financing will participate in a panel describing the advantages and disadvantages of public versus private procurement and ownership of waste facilities. The panel discussion is scheduled for Thursday evening March 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Assembly Room on the 10th floor of the County Building. The public is invited to attend.

The next Solid Waste Advisory Committee meeting will be Wednesday, Feb. 22, 7:30 p.m. at the Libertyville Township Hall, 359 Merrill Ct., Libertyville. The committee will continue to discuss the waste facility system alternatives. The public is welcome. Please call Jeanne Becker at (312) 689-6350 for more information.

Registration deadline Feb. 21 for primary

Voter registration will close at the end of business on Tuesday, Feb. 21 in all locations throughout Lake County for the March 20 Presidential Primary, and will reopen March 22.

County Clerk Linda Hess urges voters, who have moved or changed their name within the last two years, to verify their voter registration status and current address with the county clerk's office prior to the close of registration on Feb. 21.

Hess explained that a change in the voter registration laws may result in some voters not being allowed to vote if their address or name is not current.

Until this year, voters who had moved within their precinct or changed their name but had not notified the clerk's office so their official records could be updated, could still vote by affidavit on Election Day for two years after such a change. However, the new law will only allow voters to vote by affidavit if the change in their address or name occurred within 28 days prior to the election.

Hess said the change in the law is difficult to explain, and the best advice she can give is to urge voters in doubt of their eligibility to vote to call the county clerk's office at (312) 689-6628 prior to Feb. 21, to insure that their records are current.

It is said that Louis XIV of France owned 412 beds.

Sheriff seeks applicants for reserve deputy unit

The Lake County Sheriff's Dept. is seeking applicants for the department's Reserve Deputy Unit, Sheriff Robert H. Babcox announced.

The Lake County Board approved a resolution Nov. 15, providing for the addition of 10 reserve deputies to the sheriff's dept. after Babcox requested to expand the program.

Reserve deputies shall not carry firearms nor shall they receive salaries or reimbursement for expenses incurred. They must also be residents of Lake County during the tenure of their appointment and shall receive appropriate training as directed by the sheriff prior to assignment of duties, Babcox added.

Presently reserve deputies assist in traffic control, disaster situation, civil disorders or as directed by the sheriff.

ORTHODONTICS FOR ADULTS

Question: Is there a difference between the amount of time required for orthodontic work for young people and for adults?

Answer: Orthodontics—straightening teeth and correcting any disharmony in the mouth—usually takes more time for adults.

As a person grows older, the jawbone becomes more calcified and dense, so it takes longer to move teeth along the jaw. This extra time is essential, since moving them too fast may result in dissolving of the roots. Great care must be taken in moving teeth where there is minor gum disease, and this too, calls for time and patience.

Since the teeth and jaws of grown-ups offer special problems, they may need the services of other professionals—a restorative dentist, a periodontist, a prosthodontist, or an oral surgeon—when mouth rehabilitation is required. These needs may arise because adults can no longer rely on the growth and developmental forces of youth to help correct mouth irregularities and disharmony.

Sequoits double win may be spoiler start

Living up to Coach Don Zeman's prediction of turning the tide, the Antioch High School varsity basketball team stretched its winning streak to three with a double win last weekend.

The Sequoits took Fenton, 79-64, on their home court, on Friday, Feb. 17, with Dan Berkiel leading the scoring with 23 for Antioch.

Tom McLelland and John Humphreys contributed 15 and 14 points respectively.

Fenton more than doubled Antioch's fowls, 30 to 14, and Antioch grabbed 34 rebounds to Fenton's 19. Fenton had 16 turnovers to Antioch's 11.

Berkiel, the star of the evening, is also credited with 11 of those rebounds.

It was a big win for the Sequoits on Saturday, Feb. 18, when they edged powerhouse Zion-Benton, 51-50, on their home court.

Don Korjenek was Antioch's man with the hot hand with 21 points, scoring 15 of them as he really came alive in the second half.

Humphreys and Steve Mueller followed with 10 apiece. Berkiel and Mueller got their hands on 11 and 10 of Antioch's 27 rebounds. Berkiel, who only scored six points, remained a good man to have around with four assists behind his name.

Zeman said the wins were a long time in coming and credited "a more aggressive balanced defense and a strong free throw effort."

He added that the addition of an aggressive defense on Saturday, with Antioch playing a man-to-man defense most of the game, really did the winning trick.

Antioch's record is now 9-13 overall and 6-9 in the North Suburban Conference.

The Sequoits are due to face another of the league's leaders, Warren, on Friday, Feb. 24, when we'll see if Zeman's plans of the Sequoits playing the spoiler materialize.

Bill Dunbar, Electrical Engineer
Commonwealth Edison

"When I say 345, I'm not talking small potatoes.

"I'm talking three hundred and forty-five thousand volts.

"That's what the lines on those big towers carry. That's what makes them the backbone of our whole transmission system. A kind of electricity expressway that covers all of northern Illinois. And a whole lot more.

"Hooks us up with just about every utility from the Atlantic to the Rockies.

"The reason is protection.

"So even if the weather does its worst, even if you can fry an egg on the sidewalk or see your breath making icicles, and even if a number of our generators quit on us wholesale, we can keep the power coming.

"No blackouts. No downtime for factories or businesses or homes. No inconvenience for anybody. Not for long. Not if the 345 can help it.

"You better believe we really look after a lifeline like that. Which is a job in itself. There are 2300 miles of it in northern Illinois alone. And to spot a problem anywhere along the line, you have to be right up there where it is. A copter's the only way.

"Fixing a problem is no picnic either. Climbing a tower a hundred-fifty, two hundred feet high is tough, even when the wind isn't blowing. Neither is changing a two-hundred-pound string of insulators, especially if it's a live line.

"It's hard work. Dangerous work. But it's got to be done. And done right.

"It goes with the territory."

In the fight against today's gas costs, you have some powerful weapons at your disposal.

Once you understand just how worthwhile energy conservation measures are, you may well want to join the fight.

If so, you'll be glad to learn that there are many powerful weapons at your disposal.

Keeping your heat from leaving home. One of the most basic steps you can take to reduce gas consumption is to make sure that when you heat your home, the heat stays inside.

That means two things: making sure your ceilings, walls, and floors are adequately insulated, so that a lot of heat doesn't pass right through them. And making sure that heat can't leave home through cracks around windows and doors.

If your home isn't well insulated, extra insulation can be added, often for a very reasonable cost. And caulking and weatherstripping are inexpensive projects perfect for the do-it-yourselfer.

Saving gas all night: it's a matter of degrees. Another important way to conserve gas is to keep your home cooler when everyone's asleep or no one is home. You should set your thermostat down—by 10 degrees or so—at bedtime. Or, for convenience, get an automatic set-back thermostat that will turn the heat down and back up, automatically, at any time you choose, day or night.

For better fuel economy, get a tune-up.

For the furnace. Like any machine, your furnace or boiler can only do its best when it's in good shape. So make sure you have it inspected and adjusted at least once every 2 years to make sure it's giving you its best performance. And be sure to change your furnace filters at proper intervals.

Time for a new appliance? That's the time to think conservation. When the time comes, to replace your furnace, boiler, water heater, range, or dryer, that's the time to reduce your use of gas, by buying a new energy efficient appliance.

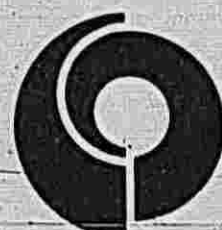

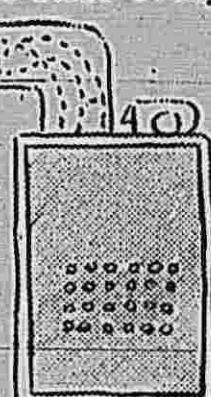

The new energy efficient gas furnaces and boilers can cut your heating bill by up to 20% or more. And that means big savings in the long run. Replacing other appliances with new, more energy efficient models can reduce your gas bill even more.

There isn't room here, to cover the full range of options you have, to help reduce your use of gas.

These are just a few ideas, to get you started.

Another thing that will help you get started is some help from Northern Illinois Gas... and we mean financial help.

And that will be the subject of the last ad in this series.

Andre's serves 'Turkey'

Although turkey is not on the food menu at Andre's Dinner Theater in Richmond, it is on the theatrical one.

The repertoire company again presents an intimate middle age sex comedy as an added dessert besides the blueberry and cherry tarts offered by the restaurant.

"Turkey At Midnight," is light enough to be digestible and the opening night audience, mostly over "29," often signified its approval by laughing at the punch lines.

With only two women and two men comprising the cast, the ladies steal the show in this one. Ann Marie Cina plays the wife who beats a husband suffering with the "Seven Year Itch," to the punch by leaving him before he can leave her.

Cina does her usual competent job, as does Lillen Allen who plays her neighbor. Allen plays this one without the usual rolling of the eyes and Jewish accent that had almost become her trademark.

Tom Hausman, who plays the frustrated husband, seemed to have a hard time getting the feel of his role in the beginning of the play but came through with a more natural performance as the play progressed.

Bill Bunton, his neighbor, delivers some of the best wise-cracks in the script aptly, although I missed some of them because he swallowed them along with the ever present drink in his hand.

All four of the performers have great credits behind their names and probably have garnered a local following that should well appreciate their efforts in this one.

Do everything director, Barbara Miller, comes up with a nice set for this production.

"Turkey" will be playing at Andre's through the weekend of Feb. 24.

PLAYS CHRIST AT BARAT — Keith Boehm, will play role of Jesus Christ, in Barat College's production of "Godspell," set to be presented on March 2, 3, 4, 9, 10 and 11. Boehm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Boehm, is familiar face to local theater goers.

Bike race to attract top U.S. bicyclists

GreatAmerican Federal Savings will attract top cycling teams, outstanding individual riders and local bicycle enthusiasts to Oak Park Sunday, April 29 to compete for more than $12,000 in cash and prizes in the GreatAmerican 50 Bike Race.

This major cycling event is being sponsored by GreatAmerican Federal Savings as the centerpiece of its year-long 50th anniversary celebration.

The GreatAmerican 50 will include five United States Cycling Federation sanctioned criterium races: Categories 1 & 2 and professionals (elite); Categories intermediate race.

The event will also include five citizens races for men, women and children according to age.

According to race director, Lee Katz, the GreatAmerican 50 elite race is expected to draw top male and female cyclists from such teams as 7-eleven, Murray, Levi-Raleigh and Pepsi. Many of these top cyclists will compete for positions on the 1984 Olympic cycling team. The GreatAmerican 50 will be the only opportunity Chicagoans will have to see these top athletes before the summer Olympic games in Los Angeles.

Prior to the event a series of GreatAmerican bicycle clinics will be held throughout Chicagoland at 10 of GreatAmerican Federal Savings' 27 branch office locations. Each clinic will provide valuable information on bicycle safety, maintenance and give first hand racing tips from experienced competitors.

The decision to host a national class cycling competition grew out of Great American's recognition of the rapidly expanding interest in cycling shown by both spectators and participants and the opportunity to provide events of interest to the communities it serves.

Proceeds from race entries are being donated to the Frank Lloyd Wright Home and Studio for the development of its bicycle tour program of Frank Lloyd Wright homes in the Oak Park-River Forest communities.

GreatAmerican Federal, which was founded in Oak Park on Feb. 20, 1934, has grown with the community and takes an active role in its preservation.

More information on the GreatAmerican 50 can be obtained at any of the 27 branch offices of GreatAmerican Federal Savings or by phone, (312) 864-5095.

Bankers

Andy Bernhardt, president of the State Bank of Antioch, agrees that local business is up. He adds that he looks for real estate and durable goods sales to really increase.

"Antioch is an area with many platted subdivisions that are ready to go," he said.

Bernhardt claims that people now can live with an adjusted mortgage over 12 percent. He added that industries such as the automobile one are in good shape because many of the hold outs now need a new car etc..

Bernhardt feels that local industry is also up but maybe a little too "gun shy," to think of expansion quite yet. But he sees it in the near future, adding that Antioch also has land-room for an industry increase.

He also said that most local retailers are in better shape than last year and he looks for people to soon start trading upwards in price, buying goods with a higher price tag.

Bernhardt sees things going well nationally if defense spending is curtailed to reduce the budget deficit, but adds that a tax increase must come and expects it to after November's election.

But he expects this to be handled tactfully in the form of a surtax (added tax figured on taxes paid) or a national sales tax on luxury items.

He thinks that if the government in Washington continues to borrow to cover the deficit without raising taxes it will simply squeeze the private borrower out because most of the money will be going to pay the national debt and then its back to square one of the cycle of rising prime rates, rising interest rates etc..

Foreman presents check to judicial committee

Lake County State's Atty. Fred Foreman presented a check for $15,000 to the Law and Judicial Committee of the Lake County Board to be used in the training of prosecutors and the stringent enforcement of narcotics laws.

The $15,000 was presented as a result of the conviction of a reputed drug dealer in the Lake County courts resulting in the forfeiture of more than $65,000 which was split between the Lake County State's Attorney, the Deerfield Police Dept., and the Illinois Dept. of Law Enforcement Northshore Metropolitan Enforcement Group.

Foreman presented the law and judicial committee and thanked them for their cooperation in providing the state's attorney the necessary resources to strictly enforce the narcotics laws in Lake County.

Foreman said "This money will be used to train prosecutors to obtain stiff sentences for known drug dealers in Lake County. It is our intent to use the proceeds from these crimes in order to fight crime."

Foreman recently turned over a check for $24,000 to the county board to be used as seed money for the Lake County Crime Stoppers Program. During his term as state's attorney, Foreman has set a priority to turn over large amounts of money to county government to offset the expenses of innovative law enforcement programs.

In other news, Foreman, who is a member of the Illinois Sentencing Commission, recently toured the Graham Correctional Center in Hillsboro.

It is the mandate of the Illinois Criminal Sentencing Commission to tour such facilities and to make recommendations for the legislature concerning guidelines for sentencing in the Illinois Courts.

Foreman stated, "It was very informative to tour a major correctional facility such as the facility in Hillsboro. This facility is one of the more modern and innovative facilities in the State of Illinois."

587 deputy registrars commissioned in county

Lake County Clerk Linda Hess has announced that the annual commissioning of offsite deputy voter registrars has been completed.

A total of 587 registrars have been commissioned. This includes registrars in 28 municipal halls, 12 public libraries, 19 schools, 14 township offices and over 40 banks, churches, businesses and nursing homes.

Deputy registrars are authorized to take voter registrations throughout the year for any resident in the county. Hess said, "We want to insure that the opportunity for voter registration is easily accessible to Lake County residents. The use of deputy registrars allows the county clerk to have a convenient facility outside the courthouse in almost everyone's backyard."

In addition to the deputy registrars, there are currently 140 Democratic and 201 Republican precinct committeemen who also serve as voter registrars in their own precincts.

Special voter registration drives by civic groups are held throughout the year. Any organization desiring information about a voter registration effort should contact the Lake County Clerk's office at (312) 689-6631.
